To add further.....the first tournament in the series of 3 was I thought going to have at least 100 players and certainly there was enough tables and chairs for that, but the truth of it was that about 4 players turned up to play the first round. Frankly, I knew at this point that no-one in other Vegas chess clubs or in the USA was remotely interested in playing in one of Vaughan's tournaments, just look up his history on the net and you will see why.

the clapping is completely made up.....about 3 people were in the room and they didn't clap.....

why would I know this....cos I am Andy...the guy getting the plaque.....

only later did I realize that Mr Vaughan is a complete dreamer and is basically hoping that he can somehow get some sponsor to give him money to play for his bogus World Chess Champion title!
